Contents

Editorial comment........................................................................................................ 3

Windows and mirrors: Addressing cultural diversity in our classrooms.................. 4
Cherie Allan

Using culturally diverse picture books in the classroom:
Exploring culture, language and identity ............................................................... 7
Yoshi Budd

Assessing and selecting culturally diverse literature for the classroom ............ 10
Helen Adam and Laurie Harper

Transition to school: Using multilingual storybooks in linguistically diverse settings ........................................................................ 14
Karen Dooley, Yue Melody Yin and Liwei Livia Liu

Contentious picture books in our culturally and linguistically diverse classrooms ........................................................................ 17
Alisa Cleary

Learning and teaching with cultural stories ...................................................... 20
Louise Phillips

Looking through their own eyes:
A Year 6 literature inquiry into themselves as cultural beings ..................... 23
Brett Healey

Sounding different: Engaging the senses to bring a distant time and place to life .............................................................................. 26
Deryn Mansell

Traditional tales from around the world: Encouraging young voices into the classroom through literary description ..................... 27
Kathleen Rushton

Text, Twitter and Tweet .......................................................................................... 30
Sharon McDonough

Review of three resources to encourage practical oral language activities in primary school classrooms .............................................................. 31
Vanessa Tierney

Feedback in the literacy classroom ...................................................................... 33
Philip Poulton and Maria Montefiore

Using a Writing Analysis Tool to monitor student progress and focus teaching decisions ............................................................................ 35
Noella M. Mackenzie and Janet Scull

Surveying the field: Primary school teachers’ perceptions of the literacy capabilities of recently graduated primary school teachers ......................... 39
Beryl Exley, Eileen Honan, Lisa Kervin, Alyson Simpson, Muriel Wells and Sandy Muspratt

Review – Social diversity within multiliteracies: Complexity in learning and teaching ..................................................................................... 43
Linda-Dianne Willis

Teaching and learning through children’s literature ............................................ 45
Robyn English

Literary resources: Reviews and Applications ................................................... 46

Ten Tidbit Takings ..............................................................................................