Contents

Editorial Comment ................................................................. 3
Jessica Mantei, Lisa Kervin and Gloria Latham

The Accidental Author ............................................................ 4
Sandy Fussell

Who the heck is Alice? ............................................................. 6
Kate Story

Children’s Literature Digital Resources: ............................... 8
Michelle Dicinoski, Cherie Allan & Amy Cross

What’s in a Song?: Teaching Language through Music (K-2)...... 10
David Wassink

Using Socratic Circles to Develop Critical Thinking Skills ....... 13
Ghiran Byrne

An author considers the new Australian Curriculum: English …
a focus on literature ............................................................. 16
Goldie Alexander

Text Talk for Teachers ............................................................ 19
As easy as ‘A B C’: Using mnemonics to assist students in acquiring a solid knowledge of letter-sound relationships in their first year of schooling ................................................. 20
Maria Nicholas

Making Language Literature and Literacy Work in Action ....... 22
Louise Harradine

Frame by Frame: Graphic Novels for the Primary Classroom..... 27
Joy Lawn

Creating and Responding to text ISN’T A DRAMA! .................... 30
Dayna Dennison

Shakespeare is Child’s Play!:
Picture Books as Theatre in Primary Classrooms ................ 36
Erica Hateley

Little Big Book Club
Literature in the Early Years .................................................. 42
Leanne Williams and Sarah Lawson

Ten things I ask my students to think about as they read .......... 44

Send your articles, pictures or ideas to Jessica Mantei,
Editor, Practically Primary,
University of Wollongong
Northfields Avenue
North Wollongong NSW 2522
e-mail: jessicam@uow.edu.au

Ten things I ask my students to think about as they read .......... 44

Text Talk for Teachers ............................................................ 46

Text Talk for Young Readers ................................................... 47